PLANNING 11

such as legacy infrastructure, pollution, traffic, and human congestion. All urban development will be powered by solar, clean energy, including pollution-free, healthy, and more sustainable environments for residents.

How can developers merge technology and innovation into their masterplans to create intuitive and intelligent communities and spaces? What technologies are being explored? Developers have the opportunity to deliver experiences that matter through masterplan communities rather than focusing on just aesthetics. In the UAE, developers and architects are leveraging technology to connect and improve infrastructure, efficiency, convenience, and quality of life for residents, visitors alike. Innovation, technology, fueled by design and technological advancement has been extremely pertinent when it comes to the transformation of the built environment. Building Information Modelling and design-led design is really beneficial in communicating the master plans in the digital world. Artificial Intelligence and Virtual Reality have many benefits such as highly engaging and vividly realistic virtual property tours. AI can help lower the costs by turning massive data into understandable figures and help buyers making informed purchase decisions.

Overall implementation of these technological reforms can revolutionise the industry even further and can provide homeowners with a comfortable and modern living experience.

What are some of the projects Ayana Holding is working on that showcase this concept of masterplanning?

Recently, we have been in touch with Kanakh Investor National Company for the construction of a multifunctional residential and commercial complex, The Grand Mosque Residences, in Astana, the capital city of Kazakhstan along with Nad Al Sheba Holding.

The total cost of the project will be US$4 billion. Ayana Holding and Saudi Arabia's Nad Al Sheba will be the lead developers of the project and manage the design, development, and construction of the multifunctional, commercial and residential complex. This will include a master plan, the architectural design and the infrastructure planning. The complex will feature residential apartments, commercial space for restaurants, shopping centers, and retail showrooms, boutique hotels, as well as office space for organisations to rent.

The Kanakh Investor National Company is on board to support on ground operations and liaise with the Kazakhstan government for approvals and land allocation.

Experiences matter
Developers have the opportunity to create communities that matter through innovation and aesthetics.

What are Ayana Holdings plans for the future?

Our aim is to develop assets that provide end-to-end services and focus on building a network of powerful companies on a global level. We have robust Master Planning and Design, Interior Design, Capital Investment, Marketing, Entertainment Concepts, Design, Market Entertainment Procurement, Project Management, PFR Procurement, and Turnkey Fit-out, IT Solutions, Destination Marketing, and Real Estate Management. By working closely with these companies, we aim to provide sustainable development and continue to expand our wings across the globe.

With a financial, operational, and strategic capability, and a wide development network, we have the global capacity and know-how to transcend borders and boundaries, resulting in high-growth businesses that disrupt industries and create a more sustainable future.

The real estate market in Dubai looks very promising for the upcoming few years. New supply will be continually increasing in the market, and the demand will also increase. The market will increase by 20% to 25% per year. With Dubai being positioned as an investor friendly market, we expect an influx of foreign investors and HNWIs. □
